

Date

Ellingham

Kirby Cane

1350	Land in Ellingham and Kirby Cane (and a great many other places) were granted to the prior and convent of St Olave in Herringfleet (an Augustinian priory of Black Cannons).
1351	Having had four children by Segrave, Margaret tried to get a divorce from him, but he died before the cause was heard.	Robert de Weston rector presented by William de Wychingham, guardian of Nicholas Gavel.
1355	Countess Margaret married Sir Walter de Mauny without the King's licence.	John Foucher rector presented by William de Wychingham.
1361	John de Shaftesbury junior, rector.	Nicholas Batchelor rector presented by William Wychingham.
1377 Richard II 22 June 1377 - 29 Sept 1399		Edmund de Redeshaw of Kirkeby Cane of the manor of Hales hall in Loddon and via Loddon, Hales, Kirkeby, Elyngham, Broome, Raveningham, Hekyngham, Hardele, Hedenham, Thureston and Treveyt and the advowson of the chapel of Hales hall.
1378		William de Dedham rector presented by "patrons" Nicholas Bachelor of Wychingham, Sir Wythred of Denton, John Bole of Wodeton, Thomas Storme of Blakeney and Elen Myniot, who when widowed married Thomas Storme.
1379		Nicholas Jacob, rector presented by Thomas Storme, Elen Myniot and John Wythred (chaplain).
1381	An underlying social unrest broke out into uprising when a tax of a shilling was levied on every person over the age of 14 years. The insensitive attitude of the collectors caused further resentment and riots broke out in East Anglia, notably at Bury St Edmund. The riots this caused are now referred to as the PEASANTS REVOLT. The nearest the disturbances came to us, was the attack made by John Wrawe on Ufford's Mettingham Castle, when a band of several hundred looted and stole much armour and gold. They also attacked a house in Beccles.
1386	Walter de Totyngton, rector. A Medieval brick works was busy in the Spion Kop plantation area.
1387		Walter FitzWalter held for 1 knight's fee of the Abbot of Langley, Kirby and Raveningham. John de Hales, 1 knight's fee in Kirby and Broome.
1389		Walter Gerard, rector.

